Product Recall: Fahr Brewery Select Products

Fahr Hefe, Copper and Pils affected

Fahr Brewery has issued a voluntary recall on a number of select beer products in cans and kegs. The recall was prompted after Fahr Brewery detected beer spoilage in select batches of beer produced in Summer 2022 was alerted to some instances of off-tasting product.

While there have not been any reported illnesses associated with this product quality issue, Fahr Brewery has chosen to remove all affected products from retail sales.
